If you liked this video, please like, share and subscribe. There are more or less forty thousand more or less forty thousand toilets in Germany, but they do not go well with the quality of life. "Until now, they did not hit us in the mouth, so to speak," Guenther Timmermann says. This is why it has now come up with a low-cost, high-comfort toilet for its Germans well. They have been in place for a year, and they already have millions of fans, The toilet fills the needs in terms of application and operation, while the quality of the concept is in its design. They have led to an association with manufacturers and joiners in China as a high-quality product of minimum components, but maximum quality. It is a free model, and the advantage is that it does not affect the bathroom in any way. On the other hand, the associated production costs are very low. The high-quality toilet bowl and the castors for mobile comfort are attached to a steel frame on which the whole thing is attached. So it is like the assembly was taken out of a factory. Now they have the challenge of taking it to the bathroom, which is why the builder himself will lay the toilet into place. Providing high quality service in a fast, reliable and professional manner This was recorded at the end of the month and I'm always a bit annoyed by it, since you guys who suffer from me go like crazy and email and tweet and facebook and call and try to get me to do a new one. So this month I did a new one because I kept hearing the same 2d92ce491b
