Results 1 - 9 of 9 The 3rd amendment is pretty much bullshit. It basically says that the government cannot limit your right to own a gun. Why is that? Cause that's the first time they've ever tried. They've done everything else. They've tried to force people to pay taxes, they've tried to restrict freedom of speech. They try to limit your ability to walk your dog or do any kind of dangerous thing and there's no law against that. There's laws against murder and suicide and stealing and all that, but none against you deciding not to own a gun or not to own a gun.Q: Why is my ajax code not working? I am trying to get the login status of a user on one page and pass it to a div on another page. But I can't get the request to work. This is my ajax code:

$('#confirmation').click(function() { var user = $('#username').val(); var pass = $('#password').val(); var page = $(this).attr('value'); $.ajax({ url: "", type: 'post', data: { username: user, password: pass, page: page }, success: function(data) { $('#divstatus').text(data); console.log(data); }, error
