How can I get the current logged in user object? A: Try this: Auth::user()->username; You are here Republicans Demand Exploratory Committee Hearings May 31, 2013 WASHINGTON -- A committee of the House of Representatives today approved an amendment that would grant the House full control over the selection and termination of federal judges. According to the Federalist, the Amendment was offered by Rep. Scott Garrett (R-N.J.), and would require that judges appointed to the Supreme Court and the Circuit Courts of Appeals be confirmed by the Judiciary Committee. In a vote of 162-264, the Committee approved a motion to report the amendment back to the House. House Rules do not provide for any further action on this motion, and it will be returned to the full House. The text of the Garrett amendment, as approved by the Committee, can be found here. The public has expressed mixed views about the amendment. A number of other bills have been introduced that would make similar changes
