Fast URL Checker Crack

Fast URL Checker is a neat tool for scanning URLs. You can also check the content types and status codes of hundreds or even thousands of links, and reveal any redirects you stumble upon. A few days back I bought a brand new Samsung Galaxy Note 9 device. I've used almost all Samsung phones and tablets. This one seems to have the best combination of ergonomics and design elements, and it's still packed with great features. The best thing it offers is that it's completely waterproof, meaning you can use it to play hands-free games and use it in the rain. Also, the screen is quite sharp and color accurate. The other day I came across some pretty cool apps on the Google Play Store. Here are the ones I found and rated them with my own criteria. Google Maps Navigation – This is a universal app for both Android and iOS. It comes with excellent user interface and natural gestures that make it very easy to navigate around. The navigation part makes the app really useful in terms of getting to a particular destination. The only downside is it is a little pricey and I never found it particularly stable on my S9. Still, it is one of the best navigation apps out there. Battery Notifier – There are other apps that do the same thing, but for some reason, I really liked this one. It uses energy saving features and notifications to tell you the last time your phone charged and the percentage it still has left. This will go a long way in making you actually use it. This one has a mini weather forecast feature that will provide additional information on the weather. Don't take my word for it, I am almost always wrong so I always go with the weather forecast. Advanced Notification – This is another app that works in conjunction with Google's battery app. However, this one has a slightly different logic. It provides you with a lot of information about your phone and notifications can be cleared manually, individually or even used to mark notifications as priority. It has a very simple interface that will make it easy for you to manage these notifications. I liked this app very much but found that it didn't work too well with my phone. It would sometimes freeze and it would become a little difficult to navigate. The WPS Office – This is probably the best office suite out there for Android. It has great performance and offers all the tools you need. The app allows you to connect to the Google Drive so that you 6a5afdab4c
