To evaluate clinical and radiologic outcomes after transarterial embolization (TAE) for hemorrhage from focal cerebral venous angioma (FCVA). We reviewed records of 7 patients who underwent embolization for FCVA. We focused on radiologic response as measured using Fisher's exact test, Wilcoxon signed rank test, and repeated measures analysis of variance. Clinical outcomes included incidence of hemorrhage requiring repeat embolization, dependence, Glasgow Coma Scale (GCS) score, and GCS scores on admission and discharge. A favorable radiological response to embolization was defined as a significant decrease in the volume of contrast extravasation on follow-up computed tomography (CT). The median follow-up was 16.5 (range 9-30) months. A favorable response to embolization was observed in all 5 patients with Child-Pugh class A and 2 patients with Child-Pugh class B. A favorable response was identified in 5 patients with no prior intervention. The median postprocedural GCS score on admission was 12.9 (range 11-15), and the median GCS score on discharge was 14.6 (range 13-15). The proportion of patients with a GCS score ≥14 was
