"Modern Combat 5" Modern Combat 5 (abbreviated as ACV 5) is a third-person shooter developed and published by Gameloft. It was released on the App Store for iOS devices on December 9, 2012, and on Google Play on February 25, 2014. The game's game play revolves around the player's movement and shooting enemies. It is one of several titles that had been said to be removed from the App Store for featuring in-app purchases that could be replaced with advertising. A free-to-play game, it includes premium microtransactions, as well as in-game currency called "Credit" that can be spent for additional content, such as weapons and enhancements. Unlike other games, the player controls two characters simultaneously (a pilot and a vehicle operator), being forced to choose between them while inside the cockpit of a vehicle. The game's mechanics have been criticized for being abstract and confusing, and early previews suggested that content had been cut. The game came out as a timed exclusive on the Windows Phone Store and on the PlayStation 3 in early March 2014. It was later released for the PlayStation 4 and Xbox One in North America and Europe. Modern Combat 5 was awarded Best Game of the Year at the 2013 National Academy of Video Game Trade Reviewers Awards and was named "Best Fighting Game" of 2013 at the 12th annual Game Developers Choice Awards. The game was a finalist for "Best Action Game" and "Best Shooter" at the 2013 Spike Video Game Awards. The game received a 2014 Game Critics Awards nomination in the category of "Best Mobile Game", but lost to Gameloft's ShadowGun. Modern Combat 5 3da54e8ca3
