Jul 8, 2020 alauat 7b17bfd26b says: I was once the victim of a cyber attack, they logged into my bank account and paid a poor couple of for me. I was able to trace the scam back to the hacker of my cell phone. being able to trace the hacker of my phone and get them to change their password and try again was what got me out of this. Jul 5, 2020 adamthomay d868ddd6e says: this is exactly what happens. hackers can log in and delete all your information on nyspace. Jul 5, 2020 daniers7 7b17bfd26b The service I use has a 3 digit code which is used to reset the password, the number would be in the message you get on the email if you need it. Either you get the code or there is a new hacker account, it is fast in our experience. Jul 5, 2020 daniers7 7b17bfd26b me too... I was hacked and have been dealing with it for months. every time I get a text from this person, I have to go to my dashboard and see if it's a legit text, and sometimes it is, and other times it's a scam. and that's a lot of effort Jul 4, 2020 elysegilbert 7b17bfd26b 868ddd6e I was a victim of identity theft 6 years ago. It was a data breach from my employment of a large retailer. The person who did this to me did not mess with the money they stole from me. They used that money to buy a new house. They didn't realize a few years later that the amount of money they stole would be credited to my new bank account. It had enough money to buy a new house, however I did not get the credit for the money that was stolen. I do not have a new house because of that. Jun 21, 2020 ebycegodbless d868ddd6e I was just hacked. There was a thief in my email. I worked in a hospital that had an email with a specific access and was able to send my password to another email. I changed 570a42141b
