Getting to Know Photoshop Photoshop CS6 includes a number of new features that improve efficiency and make creating and working with digital images easier. These features include the following:

- * The Content-Aware Move tool ( Figure 3-1 ): Allows you to move or rotate the edges of an image to create a seamless transition for when the elements you're moving meet. This feature is similar to the Content-Aware technology found in recent Photoshop editions. Figure 3-1: The Content-Aware Move tool can smooth out any sharp transitions in the image edges.
- * Smart Sharpen ( Figure 3-2 ): A feature that makes it easier to create quality photographs. The Smart Sharpen helps determine what's sharp and what's not. Figure 3-2: The Smart Sharpen tool determines where edges and highlights are located in the image and then smoothes them out.
- * The Layer panel ( Figure 3-3 ): New to this release of Photoshop, the Layer panel provides a convenient way for you to access a specific layer when working with layers. This panel offers many handy tools, such as New Layer, Merge Visible, and Delete Layer.
- * New drop-down menu ( Figure 3-4 ): Provides quick access to tools that are useful in particular applications. For example, the menu includes several effects, a tool for retouching, and one that helps you speed up your editing process. Q: Error trying to connect to node js server using curl but all works fine with postman This is my first time setting up a node js server, I'm trying to use it in a router like this: `import { Router } from 'express' const router = Router() router.get('/test', (req, res, next) => { res.send('Testing') }) export default router` and this is my postman client: url: method: GET body: but the problem is that I'm trying to access the route in postman and when I type: "" I get "ERR_EMPTY_RESPONSE" in the console. I tried using: Postman REST client, and trying to include http headers but it didn't work, then I tried to access the server using Postman Debugger and it worked just fine... I have been trying to solve this problem for over a week so any help is appreciated. Thank you A: Try using HTTPS `const https = require('https'); https.request(options, (response) => { var body = ""; response.on('data', (chunk) => body += chunk); response.on('end', () => { // handle the response }); })` 't until years later that I began to see the sad state of "The Charm" as an adult. I remember falling in love with the film in the early 80s and hoping that when I grew up I would be able to see it as a teenager but sadly my dream was not realized. But the more I saw 70s/80s films that were made for young kids the more I began to realize how difficult their lives were growing up in the 1970s. The camera is very quiet. It is designed to immerse the viewer into the action. The Child Catcher There is no children's program on television that ever made me cry as much as "The Child Catcher" did. Anytime I saw it I cried and cried. It just upset me so much seeing children raped, beaten, tortured and abandoned. I

W.Z. Watch: The All You Need Is Kill Trailer Watch: The All You Need Is Kill Trailer All You Need Is Kill is an upcoming action movie directed by Doug Liman and written by Christopher Sparling. The official theatrical release date is this October, but you can watch the new trailer now. I quite enjoyed the trailer and it's got a lot of great blood, explosions, and guns. I'm really looking forward to watching this, and even more when it's released on October 17th. I'm a freelance writer, editor, and translator from Seattle, WA. Edit them in the Widget section of the Customizer. Q: jQuery 'id' selector relative to $(document)? I have a container that moves and re-sizes itself using a background image, and is ultimately going to be placed inside an . The problem is that the width of the iframe changes as the user resizes the page (whilst maintaining a consistent ratio). The objective is to get a jQuery selector to select the correct part of the CSS that represents the container. The actual scenario is more complex and involves a tooltip (that appears and disappears on-mouseover, but that's a nipper :)), and I'll simplify for the sake of the question. My problem is that when a tooltip is to be displayed, the container has to be positioned absolutely. The container is a div with a width and a background image. If the width of the iframe is different to the width of the main browser window, the container div is slightly outside of the iframe. I need to shift the container in the correct direction, because the tooltip will be displayed and the width of the iframe is a different size to the width of the page. Some sample code to illustrate what I mean:
