Q: Exception when updating view in ASP.NET MVC I am attempting to update a list of items in my view. The list of items is inside of a wrapper div called results. I can update my list of items in my view with no problem. However, when I try to update only the elements of the list that match a given criteria, then I get this exception: An exception of type 'System.ArgumentNullException' occurred in System.Data.Entity.dll but was not handled in user code Additional information: Value cannot be null. Parameter name: item Here is the code in my view: @model AdventureWorks2012.Models.DAL.SalesOrderDetailViewModel @using AdventureWorks2012.Models.DAL @{ ViewBag.Title = "Detail"; Layout = "~/Views/Shared/_Layout.cshtml"; } @Html.Partial("_Items", Model.Items) Here is the code in my view that updates my list (the view that is updated updates fine when I use a list of items I have hard coded, but this list is coming from a database call): @model List @using (Html.BeginForm("Update", "SalesOrderDetail", FormMethod.Post)) { SalesOrderDetailId SalesOrderId UnitOfMeasureCode

What's New In Photoshop 2022 (Version 23.1.1)?

Artificial reassortment of a codon 61 mutation of hepatitis B virus encoding G145R with wild-type hepatitis B virus: implications for polymerase inhibitor resistance. A glycine-to-arginine substitution at amino acid position 145 of hepatitis B virus (HBV) at nucleotide position 1762 is highly prevalent in nucleoside/nucleotide analog-resistant patients, limiting the efficacy of antiviral therapy. To enhance the antiviral efficacy of nucleos(t)ide analog therapy for these patients, an HBV polymerase inhibitor-resistant variant in which the previously described G145R substitution was modified by reassortment with the wild-type virus was constructed. Liver homogenates from patients with hepatitis B e antigen-positive chronic hepatitis B were used to construct recombinant HBV, which was partially sequenced and tested for resistance to lamivudine, adefovir and tenofovir. The HBV variant was resistant to lamivudine, adefovir and tenofovir in the absence of entecavir. Additionally, polymerase inhibition assays demonstrated a 10.3-fold decrease in the polymerase enzymatic efficiency of the G145R polymerase mutant compared with that of the wild-type polymerase. A recombinant virus carrying the G145R variant was constructed, bearing a single point mutation at position 1762 of the reverse transcriptase domain of HBV in a background of wild-type HBV. This study indicates that a mutation at nucleotide position 1762 in HBV is the most predominant resistance mutation associated with antiviral resistance. Furthermore, this study provides evidence that the introduction of an HBV variant with a G145R mutation into a background of wild-type HBV confers resistance to lamivudine, adefovir and tenofovir in patients previously resistant to lamivudine, adefovir and entecavir.Q: How can I combine all but one of three tables based on criteria? I've got three tables, which we'll call table1, table2 and table3. I want to combine all records in table1 with all records in table2 where there is no record in table3. I also want to retain all records in table2 and all records in table3. The structure of the tables is the same in each, and both table2 and table3 contain a foreign key that references table1. Example table1 id
