New Broadcasting Controls Vive's "Eyes on" camera is a viewing experience that puts the player in the heart of the action. This is only possible in a VR experience. Collections & Moments FIFA 22 also features new Collections & Moments for all kits, and an interactive menu that shows all kits in a universal way. Adding to the gameplay and visuals are the new broadcast controls for virtual camera placement and viewpoint control. Players can now see exactly where the virtual camera will be placed in the match, and whether they will be positioned in front of, or behind the player/s; or whether they will be placed at the side of the player/s. Choose the best camera angle by circling the player, and the real-time penalty area markings and offside lines are displayed on screen. Players can now even choose to display or hide the ball in an imaginary box. Set "EYES ON" and see what the game tells you about on-field camera placement for the best game-viewing experience.

Customisation FIFA 20 was the first football game ever to offer user-customisable player attributes and kits, plus a brand new FIFA Ultimate Team card collection system. In FIFA 22, players can now change up to 100 aspects of a single player in-game. Players can swap between dynamic Player Visuals, Progression Paths, Player Traits, Kit Sets, Master Tricks, Local and Global kits, and Player Obstacles to customise and create their own true-to-life player. Now, players can create their own player using the graphics, animation and attributes from another player. FIFA Ultimate Team FIFA Ultimate Team gives gamers the opportunity to manage a virtual FIFA squad and evolve their player collection over the course of several seasons. Gamers can collect, recruit, train, and trade players with real NFL, NBA, NHL, and MLB athletes. Players are earned in-game through gameplay, all-new solo campaign or multiplayer modes, and can also be bought using real money, or earn in-game rewards to purchase new packs. Re-Balancing A key focus for FIFA 22 will be on improving the balance of the game. The developers will be working with 11 professional club, including LA Galaxy,

Show HN: Streaming Content from IP addresses - diego ===== diego I built WannaSub[1] in an afternoon with the goal of providing a simple way to watch content from IP addresses. [1] ~~~ pud I assume the domains on which your script can find content are authorized by each ISP. Perhaps the ISPs would even give you some data about the numbers of connections per domain. ~~~ lwhalen it works, works well and with the addition of a few other providers (AOL, Comcast, AT&T, DirecTV, Verizon, Time Warner Cable) it will be pretty good. ~~~ diego You can also order by streaming quality: highest quality, lowest quality, public-domain, etc. ----- chaz I'll be honest: I am worried about Netflix putting ads in the videos when I get to a streamer. I suppose that is a trivial concern, but I am not sure how to eliminate that risk. ~~
