The new playstyle shapes a more authentic and dynamic-feeling experience, with tweaks to the offensive, defensive and on-ball intelligence, and improving game stability as well. The dynamics of the pitch add a new dimension to the way you can use your player, with the ability to run faster, sprint more, turn sharper, and dribble with more control, all while being more reactive to your opponent. A new Accelerate feature lets you instantly jump from a run to a sprint, reacting to your opponents' movements and anticipating their next move. There is also a new Quick Left-Foot Move, and a new Quick Right-Foot Move (pass option) that offers better control when carrying the ball with the back foot. The new Control Intelligence feature helps players become more aware of their positioning, read the game faster, and make the most out of the pace of play. It is a step towards developing player intelligence and understanding of the game, using real-world data and positioning to bring that understanding to a higher level. New Playmaker Intelligence features in FIFA 22 help you to perform more authentic actions when creating space and scoring goals. There are several adjustments to the physics of the ball that affect how it behaves in the air, as well as how a player controls the ball. Player intelligence, both offensive and defensive, is also enhanced. Your club now helps you master the many complexities of the game. For example, you can improve your aerial abilities with the new Ground Control system. The Post Up feature helps you to regain possession after a lost ball, and the Defend feature is based on your positioning and the relationship of your defender and the attacker. The premium version of FIFA 22 also introduces My Player. This will let you choose the attributes you want to improve with the new Pro Clubs mode. For example, you can adjust your acceleration, adjust your dribbling and speed, set your first touch, tackle or block ratio, train your intelligence to work harder and to make better decisions, and it even changes your feet when you sprint. Inside my house (inside the UK), FIFA 22 will launch on 6 August.12/06/2011 7 Tips to Developing Your Teaching Abroad 1. Set your expectations.
