A free utility which is far from perfect, but still gets the job done. You use it to download email addresses from AOL, Hotmail, Yahoo, Amazon, Live, Earthlink etc. MailTo is a great free utility you can use to make backups, export email addresses and other things. The biggest problem with the software is that you have to manually add the addresses you want in. The section to import is a little too restrictive. Also, the program prompts you more than a few times to press a key when you are idle. This application saves the email addresses which were stored in email book to.TXT file. It have a GUI interface. You may sort mail addresses either by first name or by last name. Searching mail addresses are saved to text file and is run very fast. Using this program you can easily backup Email addresses and URLs as well as your entire Internet usage history. It will also block off pop up windows, and will save your web site data to a directory on your hard drive, and has a txt file (BEED.TXT) so that you can save your email addresses, along with a simple description on one line. It saves a backup on either the hard disk or CD and will save all the details on your hard drive so that you can easily restore the whole thing. Device Settings How to backup Internet Explorer history- Internet Explorer has an option to save the web page history, which if enabled it will keep a history of all the pages you have visited, however, this can use up a lot of your hard drive space if you have a lot of web pages. By back this up via the history I mean save the web pages to a file. How to backup Email addresses and URLs with Internet Explorer- You can save email addresses and URLs in Internet Explorer as well. Once they are in you can copy them to either a text file or clipboard and it will be easy to save them to a text file. You can also paste the text to a text file. How to Backup Internet Explorer History- This program doesn't backup Internet Explorer history directly to a text file, however, this is easily done from within this program. Follow these steps to backup Internet Explorer history: 1. Put any web site address in the address bar on Internet Explorer and press enter. 2. Press Ctrl and Click on the page. 3. In the drop down menu you will see a menu called Saved. Click this and put the address in where you wish it to be saved. 4. Click the Save button. The Saved site will now be stored in your computer. It will also be stored in the folder you set earlier to save all BEEB's information. How to Backup Email addresses and URLs with Internet Explorer- Internet Explorer stores email addresses and URLs as a Notes Tag, which if opened in the Internet Explorer you will find the notes tag under "Saved". If you right click on it you can save it as a text file by selecting "Create Text Document". You may then paste the address to a text file. Alternatively, copy the address and paste it to the clip board. How to Backup Email addresses and URLs with other applications- If you are

What's New in the EmailSites?

Record email addresses from IE. Program will run and activate by itself. Stores backup copies in txt file. EmailSites is a useful program which allows you to record your email addresses from the Internet Explorer web browser. EmailSites will store a copy of these email addresses in a convenient.txt file, which can then be opened up in a text editor such as Notepad. So if you need to, then you can print out the addresses from the txt file and save them as a paper copy. If you don't want to print out the file and the addresses, then you can simply open up the txt file and copy and paste them into your email. The program will also store the default web browser and the default home page for your browser. Additionally, the program will also save the current web page that you're viewing. The program is small and can be run in the background, and once it is installed and active, then you can activate the program by just double clicking on the icon. The program is a great tool for saving your email addresses and requires no configuration. The only drawback is that it requires a 32 bit executable to be installed and it is designed to be run in Windows 7 or above. Important Note: When using the online version of this product, make sure that you have a recent version of internet explorer installed on your system. Internet Explorer 7 or above is required.
