With the introduction of the 19 new FUT Legends player types, FIFA 17 introduced a major new feature: a move-set for each Legends Edition player. This feature inspired the development team at EA SPORTS to create the HyperMotion Technology. Today, we're happy to announce that both leagues and teams will be able to customize their players' kits through an all-new customization feature coming to FIFA 17. Starting today, all players have the option to customize five different aspects of their kits: torso, arms and hands, goalkeeper pads, boots and shorts. Players can choose from a variety of colors and patterns to personalize their kits to suit their team colors and individual style. In addition, to show players they are authentic and to help fans know what their players look like from all angles, players on the pitch can check out their Legends Edition graphic for more visibility on the field. The customizations available are: Torso: Torso (size, material, contour and style) Visors (size, material, contour and style) Arms and Hands: Arms (size, material, contour and style) Sleeves (size, material, contour and style) Shorts (size, material, contour and style) Gloves (size, material, contour and style) Goalkeeper Pads: Goalkeeper Pads (size, material, contour and style) Shorts (size, material, contour and style) Boots: Boots (size, material, contour and style) Shorts (size, material, contour and style) Note: While the kit customization feature is available on all players for all classes, players cannot swap to a player from a different class, e.g. a defender would not be able to buy a midfielder's kit. Players can only use one set of kit customization. We will be testing these kits through the season, with more details coming over the coming months. In FIFA 17, "Active Players" are defined by the amount of time they spend on the pitch, not the amount of minutes they've played. This new functionality was a natural extension of the work we started with player ability ratings, which makes every player more impactful to

Create your dream squad of players and take your club to the next level. Join one of the most immersive and engaging ways to play as you develop your squad. Choose your favorite tactics, address your team and customize your stadium as you progress through the game. Speed & Control - Create your own Xtra Pace system or use FIFA Pass™ to break your opponents down and penetrate the defense. You'll be able to sprint through the air and dive past opponents while protecting yourself with flexible D-Moves. Take control of how the game is played and how you play with more advanced control schemes, speed and responsiveness options, and technical tweaks to improve responsiveness and ball speed. We've made many improvements to the Pitch Physics, which is a big part of the game, so that it can react and move intelligently and realistically - this means that players can control the ball with finesse and understand how it moves and feels on the pitch as they play. All of these enhancements will come together to allow you to play FIFA more and more accurately and authentically every time you pick up the controller. Rampant Resurgence - FIFA 22 looks to eliminate the offensive idiom of the game in a refreshing new way. Change the way that players attack using new Rampant Moments such as the "Vultures" and "Death Squads". New Barriers that defend the goal and offsides allow the goalkeeper the option to remain on their line, which forces them to get to the ball first. Run, or die trying - for a moment, the game isn't quite so defensive. We believe in pushing innovation and we've tried things on FIFA 22 that we've never done before. Fights this year we've allowed characters to feature more mobile and natural animations, so that they fall and get back up and move with greater authenticity. For example, strikers can stretch one leg higher up and swap positions more naturally during an aerial attack, and defenders can slide to and away from the ball more realistically in order to pressurize the offensive threat. The 2019-20 Season - The vast majority of everyone's attention this year is on the upcoming 2019-20 season, and we wanted to take a moment to outline some of the features you'll find within FIFA 22. We've made the game better with our new Season Improvements (UI) in which we've added more
