“This is the most authentic version of FIFA on any platform,” said Pete Stamm, Senior Producer, Pro Clubs at FIFA developer EA Sports. “It’s the closest you can get to what it’s like to play a live match, where you’re moving constantly, reacting and reacting to your opponents.” FIFA 22 also includes a number of new scoring and gameplay enhancements, including a completely overhauled shooting system and improvements to gameplay. Improved Shooting Gameplay improvements include:

- Player positioning moves impact accurate shooting: When players move laterally while shooting, defenders shift their position, affecting the trajectory of the shot.
- Movement placed players more in the center when scoring a goal: Shots that pass through defenders are now placed in the center of the goal area.
- Shots that extend further reach the goal: Shots that go outside the goal area are now assisted more.
- "Screeener" defender slows players' speed when they shoot: A "screeener" defender is a player who comes into a shot to try to block the shot. This defender slows down the speed of players who try to shoot. Gameplay Changes •

- Goalscoring System: While training matches allowed players to be slightly more familiar with the scoring system, now it's a more authentic experience. Players can score via headers, strikes, penalty kicks, and after goals are conceded, depending on the score.
- Team Attacking: Team attacking has been a big focus in FIFA over the last few years. Now, team attacking is back with even greater complexity and finesse. Once a team has won possession, players will split into three lanes to attack the goal: Attacking, wide and medium.
- Shot Impact Controls: Players can now apply an exacting shot to an exact spot within the goalkeeper's area. Players can make an open shot with a "soft" touch, or be more precise with a "hard" touch.
- Post-Goal Chasing: Players can run into the open space behind the opposing goal. They can now dribble through both the first and second lines of the opposing defense with more control. This can result in a shot being deflected, off-balance or blocked.
- Shoutcast Player: Play against yourself as your favorite player of
